Private scores ran 3–4 points below public; the compressed student led both